Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

The stone house is a two-story stone structure constructed in a rectangular plan. It is a four-bay by one-bay structure with a gable roof. The main facade has a entrance in the second bay from the west and nine-over-six windows in the other bays on the main facade. There is also a corbelled brick cornice formed by three rows of headers. The structure appears to date from the mid-19th century.

The property is located on the north side of Sandy Hook Road, approximately .23 mile west of Clark Road in Sandy Hook. The house sits back from the road. Its main facade faces south.

The two-story structure is constructed of random laid stone. The main facade is asymmetrically arranged. There is a large entrance in the second bay from the west. The entrance is in a recessed bay with paneled soffit. There is a one-story, one-bay porch at the entrance. In the other bays of the first story and the four bays on second story are nine-over-six sash windows with wood lintels. The cornice consists of three corbelled rows of header bricks. The gable ends of the house are unfenestrated except for a six-over-six window on the second story of the east gable end and two four-paned windows in each gable. The gables of the house are covered in wood siding. The roof is covered in sheet metal. Interior-end brick chimneys rise from each gable end.

There are no significant outbuildings on the property.
